BPS Board member Stephon Wright joined Voices to discuss how he wants a closer look at the Teacher HACK! Use digital calendars and leave work at school.

Parents in Baton Rouge often find themselves scrambling each semester when a district-wide schedule change lands on their doorstep. The most reliable way to stay ahead is to sync the official school calendar directly to a personal digital planner—a simple yet powerful hack that eliminates missed holidays, early dismissals, and surprise test days. Many families still rely on the printed brochure that the Baton Rouge Public Schools (BRPS) office distributes at the beginning of the year. While the brochure looks tidy, it becomes outdated the moment the district announces a snow day, a teacher's in-service day, or a special event. Common pitfalls include: Manually entering dates into separate planners, increasing the chance of human error. These oversights often translate into rushed pickups, missed appointments, and a constant feeling of “being on edge.” Turning the BRPS calendar into an automated, real-time feed is easier than most parents assume. Follow these three stages to set up a never-miss-a-beat schedule. Visit the BRPS website’s “Calendars” section and locate the “iCal/Google Calendar” export link. It usually ends in .ics. Copy the URL—this is the bridge between the district’s master schedule and your personal planner. Find out how the D.C. area is preparing to welcome kids back to !
